

Heritage Operations Counter Attack # 5

Outreach To Schools, Civic Clubs, Patriotic Organizations & Elected Officials

U.S. Constitution Month

- Purpose: Build positive relations with local schools, especially history teachers, civic clubs, patriotic organizations such as Sons of American Revolution (SAR), Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), Tea Party groups, and local elected officials.
- Strategic Goal: (long-term) Establish rapport with local groups and organizations as part of the SCV's continuing South-wide effort to reinforce the support for Southern heritage among our fellow Southerners while re-gaining support of local elected officials.
- Tactical Goal: (short-term) Encourage local non-SCV members to support Southern heritage. Also, to keep open lines of communication between local SCV members and their local civic groups and political leaders. Local efforts create immediate results toward moving local people from neutral or negative opinions to a more favorable view of our Cause.

U.S. Constitution Month:

September has been designated by the C-i-C as "U.S. Constitution Month." Both video and digital print information specific to the U.S. Constitution is posted on the Heritage website: <https://www.makedixiegreatagain.com/the-rest-of-the-story.html> All counter-attacks depend upon local efforts. Success depends upon each camp and each SCV member doing their part in this struggle against our neo-Marxist enemies.

Requested Camp Actions:

1. Download/copy from www.kennedytwins.com "U.S. Constitution Month" sample letter to be mailed to local schools' history departments, civic organizations and political leaders
2. Each SCV camp send letters to local schools, civic organizations and political officials in your area.
3. Have camp official sign letter, be sure to use local return address. Individual members should also send letters.
4. Download radio ads from MDGA website and run ads on local radio station(s)
NOTE: National Heritage Operations is running radio ads in September.
5. Share, via social media, this information with all camp members and the general public. Make this a camp project even if it goes over into October.

Dear (elected official's name, civic club or for local schools: attention history department)

September 17th was U.S. Constitution Day. The U.S. Constitution is one of the most important documents in our country's history. Of all the revolutions in world history, the American Revolution of 1776 is one of the few that produced a Republic dedicated to the protection of individual liberty. To celebrate our original Constitution, as authored by the founding fathers at the Constitutional Convention in 1787 and then ratified by each Sovereign State, the Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans has proclaimed September as "U.S. Constitution Month."

To encourage our members and the general public to learn more about the original U. S. Constitution the SCV has posted on our Heritage Operations website <https://www.makedixiegreatagain.com/the-rest-of-the-story.html> two ten minute videos and three papers explaining the historical development and purpose of the U. S. Constitution. As fellow patriotic Americans we urge you to join with us as we learn more about America's Constitutional history. We invite you to go to our website, view our videos and read the articles. Go to www.makedixiegreatagain.org and check out the history your northern authored and published textbooks will never tell you. The victor writes and enforces his version of history but the invaded nation also has a story to tell.

Thank you,
