

Heritage Operations Counter Attack # 2

Local Community Religious Leaders Outreach

Confederate Diversity

- Purpose: Build positive relations with local religious leaders by providing them with information about the diverse religious and ethnic make-up of the Confederate military. Make them aware of an organized effort (SCV) in their community that is actively promoting our Southern Heritage.
- Strategic Goal: Separate Southern religious leaders from the prevailing politically correct, secular humanist, ideology—especially as it relates to traditional Southern values. This neo-Marxist ideology is currently being taught in religious and secular universities. This is a long-term effort—don't expect quick results.
- Tactical Goal: Encourage local religious leaders to support their Southern heritage while causing those who have never heard of the SCV and Southern Heritage to begin to reconsider their neutral or negative opinion. Also, to open lines of communication between local SCV members and their local religious leaders/institutions. Local efforts create immediate results toward moving local people from neutral or negative opinions to a more favorable view of our Cause.
- Diversity Month: February has been designated by the C-i-C as “Confederate Diversity Month.” Both video and digital print Information specific to Confederate Diversity has been posted on the Heritage Operations website: www.makedixiegreatagain.org click “Click here for Diversity Truths.” This counter-attack depends upon local efforts—success depends upon each camp and each SCV member doing their part in this struggle against our neo-Marxist enemies.

Requested Camp Actions:

1. Download from www.makedixiegreatagain.org “Confederate Diversity Project” sample letter to be mailed to local religious leaders
2. Each SCV camp develop a list of names and address of local religious leaders. If you cannot send letters to all in your area at least send as many as you can.
3. Have camp official sign letter, be sure to use local return address.
4. Make this a camp project even if it goes over into March.
5. Ask camp members to follow-up with their (Pastor, Priest, or Rabbi)—perhaps as they are leaving their local religious service. Just a simple question—“Did you get our letter about Confederate Diversity?”
