Confederate Memorials | @ISSUE | MPB

The photo above is taken from a panel discussion held in Mississippi regarding the efforts to remove Confederate monuments. The program was broadcast by Mississippi Public Broadcasting August 2017. The panel discussion lasted approximately thirty minutes. Our side had the last five to ten min. A few weeks later the Mississippi Public Radio did an on-air interview with Donnie Kennedy. Click here to see the entire broadcast: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uhfo2jci4ug>

This past month the Kennedy Twins have been interviewed on several TV, radio and pod/cast programs and we have made numerous speeches to local SCV and other Southern heritage organizations. Our one central message is that the time has come for our people to organize and launch a real counter-offensive. It is time to take back our South!

I'm Mad as Hell and I'm Not Going to Take It Any More!

Like a deadly tidal wave, the movement to destroy Confederate monuments is crashing across the South. It seems that every fresh news cycle brings a report from another city or university that has decided to remove monuments that a few left-wing zealots have mislabeled "racist." Our fine and upstanding politicians, both Democrat and Republican, just cannot move fast enough! Make no mistake the destruction of our Confederate heritage is a political act carried out by, or facilitated by, our own scalawag politicians. Perhaps now those who claim to be leaders in the Southern heritage movement will at least admit that this is a political battle and we must find a way to fight a political war.

The Kennedy Twins will be hosting a meeting this coming October 28th in the Baton Rouge area to begin the work of establishing the first shadow government in a Southern state. If you too are "mad as hell" then mark your calendar and make plans to attend. The purpose is to carry out the plan described in Dixie Rising-Rules for Rebels.

The Loss of Civility in Civil Discourse

If a people cannot discuss differing opinions without become angry, vile, vulgar or violent, then perhaps the wrong people are attempting to live together. There are folks who honestly believe that they have a right to establish a politically correct society. They envision their new world order as a socialist land of perfect equality where old fashioned concepts such as Biblical morality are no longer allowed. They have a right to their horrid dreams but they do not have the right to use the force of government to compel us to live in their authoritarian gulag.

Recently, among the many videos of left-wing mobs attacking supporters of Southern heritage, there was a video of a young man in a Confederate uniform holding a Confederate flag. In his face was a young female shouting profanities at him and holding her two middle fingers no less than an inch from the young man's face. This is the type of people that the media protects; that our political class protects; these are our future political masters—unless we decide to do something about it.

The time is long past for seeking to persuade our enemies with the truth about our Cause. The time is long past to seek to hide from public displays of our Southern heritage for fear that we may make some folks angry. The time is long past for weak leaders who are more concerned about moving up the ranks in some organization than they are about doing those things necessary to reclaim our right to publicly display our Southern heritage without fear of attack by left-wing mobs. The time for us to form an organization that is more concerned about restoring Southern pride and our heritage as defenders of States' Rights than it is in preserving its 501c3 status.

The Destruction of Confederate Monuments—Could Have Been Prevented

“Hind-sight is 2020” or so the old saying goes. Looking back on the last few months and reviewing the legacy of the destruction of so many Confederate monuments it is clear to us that all of this destruction could have been avoided. In 1996 a proposal was made to a South-wide Confederate heritage organization that, if it had been implemented, would have prevented the current round of cultural genocide. The Kennedy Twins presented to a high officer of a large Confederate heritage organization a plan designed to undercut the political strength of the leftists who were then beginning to renew the Reconstruction-style effort to wipe out all things Confederate. The plan would also have put “backbone” in our local political “leaders” and forced them to reject the leftist efforts to initiate a campaign of anti-South cultural genocide.

The leader of the Southern heritage organization took a quick look at our plan and promptly dismissed it as being unnecessary and bordering on the political. He expressed two main concerns (1) it might put the organization’s tax-exempt status (501c3) in jeopardy and (2) the organization had other more pressing business for which the funds would be better spent. In 1996 leaders in all Southern heritage organizations did not see any real threat from a possible campaign of anti-South cultural genocide and thus they were completely unprepared when the flashpoint occurred in Charleston, SC. Our leftist opponents had prepared well and were ready to strike, while our leadership floundered much like the French General Staff when the Germans invaded France in WWII. The Kennedy Twins were dismissed as being “too radical” and “extreme.” But had the plan been implemented some two decades ago we would not be watching in horror as more and more Confederate monuments are destroyed by our leftist political enemies!

Recall that in The South Was Right! we dedicated an entire chapter to warning about the left’s campaign of cultural genocide. This was in 1994! We saw it coming and wanted to give the warning and issued a call to action. We called the plan we presented back in 1996 “Flags across Dixie.” It was a smaller version of what, in 2017, would become Dixie Rising-Rules for Rebels. We wanted the organization to make resources available in order to place CSA flags in every county in every Southern State—but in addition each county would have a committee to pay for radio ads explaining that the CSA flag represented our people’s struggle for Freedom! Obviously, this was much too radical! It is late but not too late! Project 2020 in conjunction with our efforts to establish shadow governments in every Southern State will not only reclaim our Confederate monuments but reclaim our right to a government controlled by real states’ rights including the right of nullification and secession! In politics inaction kills! Time to act!

Majority of Americans Favor Keeping Confederate Monuments

In a recent nationwide poll, it was found that 62% of Americans want to keep our Confederate monuments. See, <http://nypost.com/2017/08/17/majority-of-americans-want-confederate-monuments-to-stay/> These results are similar to the results found in a poll conducted in Louisiana in which over 70% of the people wanted to keep our Confederate monuments. Why then are “our” politicians caving in to the demands to remove our monuments? Why are they more responsive to the interest and demands of left-wing radicals than they are to the desires of the vast majority of Americans? They fear the left while they are free to ignore us. Why? Because we do not have political clout! And pacified Southerners have not yet realized that we do not live in a democracy where the will of the people governs—we live in an authoritarian Federal Empire where the will of the left rules! The only recourse is to organize a shadow government to lobby for our interests.

Traveller, Fellow-travelers, and the Confederacy

Just about the time you think you have “heard it all” about anti-South cultural bigotry, you hear about how General Lee’s racist horse, Traveller, is causing snowflakes in California to go into mob-mode. According to Breitbart News, Saphia Jackson the co-director of the Black Student Assembly at University of Southern California (USC), the Trojans, believes that Black students are being traumatized by the University’s Trojan horse mascot named “Traveler.” As she notes, Confederate General Robert E. Lee’s horse was named “Traveler” (sic), therefore great racist trauma is being done African-Americans by USC white supremacists. Saphia (yes, this is how her name is spelled in the news release) Jackson, one of the highly motivated leader of the Black Student Body at the University of California, displays her ignorance of some of the most fundamental facts about General Lee—for example: General Lee’s horse was named “TraveLLer” (note the double L) whereas the USC Trojan horse is named, “TraveLer” (note only one L). Oops, someone’s lack of knowledge of history is showing!

At this point many readers are thinking that “we just need to ‘educate’ these people about our true history and things will get better.” WRONG!! Yes, education is most important—important for our people and those who want to know the truth. Nevertheless, it must be remembered that “Changing behavior is more than education.” Most of the enemies of the South are not persuaded by facts because they are emotionally attached to the party line of the left. During the Cold War era the term “fellow-traveler” was often used to denote a communist sympathizer who may not be a member of the Communist Party. The communist “fellow-traveler” was more dangerous than a member of the Communist Party because he was emotionally attached to the communist cause but could say “I am not a communist.” Education alone could not stop this type of person because his behavior was wedded to the communist cause. Ms Jackson’s loathing of all things Confederate—including the General’s horse—is driven by emotion, not fact. (continued on p 6)

What is Vision 2020?

On pages 2 & 3 of the April 2015 issue of the Kennedy Twins newsletter we described the concept of our Vision 2020 project available at [http://www.kennedytwins.com/newsletter\_apr15.pdf]. Vision 2020 is a way in which “we the people” of once sovereign states can reclaim our original constitutionally limited republic of republics. It stresses the use of non-traditional political action; it is a plan by which we can do a flanking maneuver or end run around the Federal Empire’s ruling elite of both political parties! We encourage you to read the article on pages 2 & 3 of the April newsletter titled “Let’s Take Our Country Back!”

As we have traveled around the South talking about our Vision 2020 project we have noticed that several questions are typically asked. Below are examples:

Q. Are you trying to turn the SCV into a political organization?

A. No! The purpose of the SCV is to work for the vindication of the Cause for which our ancestors fought. It is and should remain non-political but that does not mean that we should refrain from seeking political solutions as private citizens outside of the SCV.

Q. Are you advocating secession?

A. Not as a first option. Secession and nullification are constitutional rights that the sovereign states reserved when they created the Federal government under the original constitution. They were meant to be tools to be used by “we the people” of the sovereign states to protect liberty—to be the final check on attempts by the Federal government to infringe on our rights, liberty and property.

The most important thing about the American principles of secession and nullification are that they are typically not need as long as the central government recognizes them as constitutional rights. They are only needed when the national government becomes oppressive—they are the final barrier between our liberty and an aggressive Federal government.

Our first task is not to immediately advocate for a “secession” movement but to educate, via irregular political action, the Southern people about their right to be the final judge as to whether or not the federal government is acting within the limitations imposed by the original Constitution. Then to hold a South-wide plebiscite demanding a return to real states’ rights inclusive of the right of nullification and secession.

Once the people of the South understand that they have been denied this basic American right, then the political movement to reclaim this basic American right will begin. The Federal Empire will be faced with the choice of submitting to the states our Sovereign State Amendment* acknowledging the rights of nullification and secession or be faced with the South declaring its independence—the same way the Baltic States declared their independence from the Soviet Union.

Q. We are too few, how could we accomplish this?

A. Remember Gideon in the Old Testament—numbers are not as important as determination and faith of a few! As explained in “Let’s Take Our Country Back!” we do not need to win an election to win for our Cause. Yes, it will take two or three thousand dedicated Southerners but together we can begin the movement to win our freedom—we can restore constitutional government in America. Time is short but by the year 2020 if we work together we will win.

Our Goal

Our goal is to restore a constitutionally limited Republic of Republics to America. The only decision is whether it will be in a fundamentally changed United States or an independent Confederate States of America!

Christian Cross Must Be Removed

According to the radical left in academia and left-wing legal “scholars” the U.S. Constitution requires a complete and total separation of church and state. None of these “intellectuals” can produce a clear and concise quote from the language of the Constitution declaring an intent of the Founders to separate church and state, especially to the point of instituting secular humanism’s non-religion as the officially enforced “faith” of the American government. The political attack against America’s Christian heritage continues while America’s religious leaders look the other way!

A leftist group, Americans United, sent a letter to East Central University in Oklahoma demanding that the University remove a Christian cross from the chapel on its campus. The leftist claimed that it violated the “establishment clause” of the Constitution. At first the University began to cave in to the demands but now it is rethinking due to protests from Christian groups. But with the backing of the Federal Supreme Court one can already see what the eventual outcome will be. <http://www.breitbart.com/big-government/2017/06/30/university-considers-removal-bibles-crosses-chapel/>

Southerners who understand the Constitution should know that it was intended as an instrument to limit the powers of the Federal government and was not applicable to sovereign states except in the very few and specific areas in which the states mutually agreed. That of course changed with Lincoln’s war and the creation of a supreme federal government.

The secular humanist, leftist attacks will continue until “we the people” decide to do something about it! We cannot keep doing the same things we have always done if we hope to survive. Project 2020 will give all Americans a way to reclaim real states’ rights.

Education, just like the foundation of your house, is very important. But unless we Southerners put a framework of ACTION upon this wonderful foundation, we will never change the behavior of our fellow Southerners who stand idly by and allow first our history and ultimately our last few civil liberties to be taken from us. We must educate in order to activate! Activists will change things. This is why we need to see you in Baton Rouge October 28th. AFTER THOUGHT: I wonder if Ms Jackson is going to change her name, after all it reminds a lot of people about the Confederate General, Stonewall Jackson! See USC Trojan horse story: <http://www.breitbart.com/sports/2017/08/20/this-is-real-life-usc-mascot-traveler-now-targeted-by-left-for-having-similar-name-to-robert-e-lees-horse/>

Shadow Government—Project 2020 Summit

The Kennedy Twins are sponsoring a summit to establish the South’s first shadow government in Louisiana and provide detailed plans for how to do the same in other Southern States. The date is October 28, 2017, the place is the Baton Rouge LA area. A letter will be sent out by e-mail on September 4 with more details. Be sure to check you in box. Time for talking is over!!!

They fought because the Northern majority was attempting to make political, economic, and social slaves out of the Southern minority. The struggle continues—victory in 2020!
